STANFORD GETS POOL RECEIVING PLANT

Burley Association To Establish Five New Houses In Kentucky and Sell Some Others

Lexington, Ky., July 22—Ware house and other property owned by the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association, but not needed by it for the transaction of its business, will be sold at auction to the highest bidder, Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker said today, as soon as arrangements can be made to advertise them and arrange for the sales.

"In some towns we have two warehouses, where only one is needed," said Director Barker. "In other towns we have three or four receiving plants where two are ample to care for the business. In some county seats we have no warehouses and where it is practicable to do so, in establishing new receiving plants, the warehouses not needed will be dismantled and moved to the location of the new receiving plants.

"In acquiring the warehouse property we now hold we have also acquired a number of building lots, which could be sold for building lots, and a few other buildings including some dwellings. These will be disposed of at auction to the highest bidder, as well as our excess receiving plants.

"Because of the inconvenience of handling tobacco in some of the burley counties which have signed up or which now are signing up their crops literally to the association, the growers being compelled to ship for considerable distances or being forced to a long haul to market, we have decided to establish receiving plants at four new points in Ohio, four in West Virginia, one in Indiana and five in Kentucky. These are as follows:

"Kentucky—Stanford, Mt. Olivet, Georgetown, Greensburg and Columbia.

"Ohio—Crown City, Gallipolis, Felicity and Manchester.

"West Virginia—Huntington, Hurricane, St. Albans and West Hamlin.

"Indiana—Vevay.

Mr. Barker said that in each case the warehouse or receiving plant established would be financed locally and in case of removal of plants dismantled at other points the expense would be paid by local stockholders who then would offer the warehouses to the association on the same terms as the other plants taken over by the association have been bought.

Director Barker has finished the work of taking over the receiving plants at every point in the district save two and in these but one warehouse in each remains to be decided to the association. Of the 130 plants available in the burley district at the time of the organization of the association 122 have been decided to it and two more will be as soon as the necessary adjustment of values is made.

In less than a dozen cases, Director Barker said, in arriving at the values of the property taken over by the association, was it necessary to use the services of arbitrators.

J. Sherman Porter, publicity director for the burley association an editor of the Burley Tobacco Grower, spoke at Milton, West Virginia, today in the signing campaign in that state. W. H. Shanks, of Stanford, a member of the Board of Directors of the Association, will speak at Liberty, Casey county, Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

EX-KENTUCKIANS ARE INVITED BACK HOME

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., July 22—The sun never sets on the sons and daughters of Kentucky, from Alaska to Cape Town, from China to Chili, men and women, natives of the bluegrass state, are helping to make history.

And to each of these Kentucky sends its message "Come Home." Although the State Fair is less than three months off, G. Carney Cross, secretary of the State Fair, and W. C. Hanna, commissioner of agriculture, believe with the people of the state behind them, every native Kentuckian can be notified in time that one of the biggest homecoming celebrations in the history of the state is being planned during the week of the State Fair, September 11 to 16.

"We have reduced the admission to pre-war prices; we have added more attractions this year than ever before, and more costly and gorgeous ones," said Mr. Cross, "and every preparation is being made by the State Fair, headed by Mr. Hanna, to give the returning Kentuckians the greatest welcome they ever experienced."

"There will probably be prizes for the returning Kentuckian who traveled the greatest distance and another prize for the returning Kentuckian who brought with him the largest family. I also hope to have prizes for the oldest returning citizen."

"It will take quick work to bring the gigantic crowd here that we hope for. Every person in the state must write immediately to every person they know who is now out of the state."

One of the costly and magnificent exhibits this year at the fair will be the fireworks display, "The Heart of China." This pyrotechnic exposition will cost a small fortune, but this spring when it was staged in the east, more than 250,000 persons witnessed it.

PAINT LICK WINS FROM HARRODSBURG

Jim Lackey Pitches Masterly Ball and Team Backs Him Up in Splendid Style

Paint Lick's fast baseball nine won from Harrodsburg at Paint Lick Friday afternoon in a game, though rather one-sided from a scoring standpoint, still was very interesting from start to finish. The score was 6 to 1.

Harrodsburg and Danville sent over a number of rooters and the Mercer county boys were overwhelming favorites before the game, but after Managers Roop and Duerson's machine began to function there was nothing to it but Paint Lick all the way.

There was keen interest in the game and a big crowd turned out to the creek bank grounds, which are in unusually good shape. Many of the stores closed until after the game and the day was a big one all around for the loyal Paint Lick rooters, and after the contest was over the boys were congratulated on all sides upon defeating a team that is ranked as one of the fastest amateur nines in the state.

Led by Jim Lackey, whose pitching was air-tight, Paint Lick put up an iron-clad defense except in one round, when a few bobbles let in one tally. The infield, with George Ginter at short, and John Lackey at third, leading the defense, was a stone wall. Lackey held the highly touted Mercer county sluggers to four hits and not an earned run was made off his puzzling delivery. This was Lackey's first game since his start against Eastern Normal at Richmond in the latter part of June. He had the visitors breaking their backs at everything that came over. Besides pitching an excellent game, Jim made two hits, driving in the first Paint Lick tally.

Harrodsburg did not arrive on the field until late, which forced the starting of the game to 3:40 o'clock. The first inning did not see a man past first base. In the second round with one down big Coleman, of Harrodsburg, drove one to left which bounced away from Hensley for two bases. Rowan, next up, hit a line drive to left which Hensley muffed, allowing Coleman to score. This was as far as the visitors got on the scoring line. Only 30 men received credit for a time at bat against Lackey.

Paint Lick opened fire in her half of the third and shoved over three runs. Hensley sent a ground ball toward Sutherland which he booted. Patrick was good for a single to left, which put Hensley on second. Jim Lackey drove safely to right, sending Hensley across the plate and Patrick to third. Lackey took second on the throw-in and scored with Patrick when Rowan threw wild to first on John Lackey's grounder. This was enough to be on the safe side. Patrick Lick added another in the fifth and two in the sixth.

Patrick opened the fifth with a rattling single to left, stole second and took third on a passed ball. John Lackey drove a clean single to center which sent Patrick cantering over the pan. In the sixth Simp Rogers dropped a safe one in left. He went to second on Duerson's safety to left and scored on Ward's Texas leaguer to the same field. Duerson taking second. Jim Lackey's single filled the bases. On John Lackey's out at first Duerson crossed the plate with Paint Lick's sixth and last run which was quite enough. Ward's hit in this inning finished Powers and Eddie Rowan, of Danville, finished the game for Harrodsburg.

Roush Is Reinstated

Paint Lick has Blue Lick Cincinnati, July 22—A special dispatch from Oakland City, Ind., Edditt Roush's home, says Roush, Cincinnati Reds' star outfielder, was reinstated Friday by Commissioner Landis. Landis, it is said, strongly commended the Cincinnati ball club for its determined stand against the holdout of Roush, who refused to sign a contract with the local national League, losing pitcher, Bowers, club, when his salary demands were refused.

FARM NEWS NOTES

(By Associated Press)

Smithland, Ky., July 22—Interest among Livingston county farmers in the growing of better late potatoes is centered around a demonstration being conducted by Coleman Foster, who is operating with the College of Agriculture extension division, according to County Agent L. C. Pace. Mr. Foster has planted a lot of late potatoes and will follow recommended practices in an effort to point out their value to farmers in this section of the state.

Alexandria, Ky., July 22—Community livestock judging contests being held in Campbell county are serving to arouse considerable interest among both farm boys and girls as well as adults in better livestock, according to County Agent R. F. Link. Two such contests already have been held with a total attendance of more than 500 persons, he says. Farmers in the various communities co-operate by furnishing purebred livestock for the contests while definite instructions as to how to determine the relative merits of the different animals are given before each contest.

Owenton, Ky., July 22—The proper care of lambs before they are sent to market, coupled with co-operative marketing, is continuing to prove its worth to farmers in this section of the state, County Agent J. P. Ricketts, of Owen county says. Recently a double-decked earload of lambs which had been docked and otherwise altered while young and which are sold on the Louisville market, brought $1 more a hundred pounds than did other lambs on the market the same day, he reports. The lambs were shipped co-operatively at a cost of less than $1.50 a hundred whereas local buyers claim they must have at least a $2 margin to take Owen county lambs from the farm to the market. Mr. Ricketts added. Similar results from co-operative marketing and the proper care of lambs have been obtained by Owen county farmers earlier in the season, Mr. Ricketts says.

Morganfield, Ky., July 22—Glenn Stewart, a 15-year-old Union county farm boy, who is a member of the Union County Baby Beef Club, is accomplishing some striking results in fattening the baby beef calf which he is developing as his junior project, according to County Agent L. C. Brewer. During June his care and method of feeding the animal resulted in the 695 pound calf making a gain of 99 pounds, Mr. Brewer says. June was the first month during which the young cattle raiser started his work as a feeder and during that time the animal gained more than 14 per cent of its original weight. This was done on a ration of corn, oats and clover hay. The calf was kept in a stall during the day and turned in the pasture at night.

Dixon, Ky., July 22—Webster county farmers are obtaining good results with Ashland wheat, the new pedigreed and high-yielding variety developed at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station, according to County Agent Lloyd E. Cutler. On one farm the new wheat yielded 15.8 bushels an acre, three more than the local variety, Mr. Cutler says. A number of farmers in this section of the state are planning to use Ashland in seeding their crop this fall, he said.

Dixon, Ky., July 22—Demonstration which Webster county farmers are carrying on in co-operation with the College of Agriculture extension division are filling an important place in pointing out better methods of farming to farmers in this section of the state, County Agent Cutler says. A total of 26 such demonstrations have been started this year. These include three on corn varieties, five on the cost of producing tobacco, six on tobacco fertilizers, six on soybeans and six on the care of or-

SHAKER FURNITURE BRINGS TOP PRICES

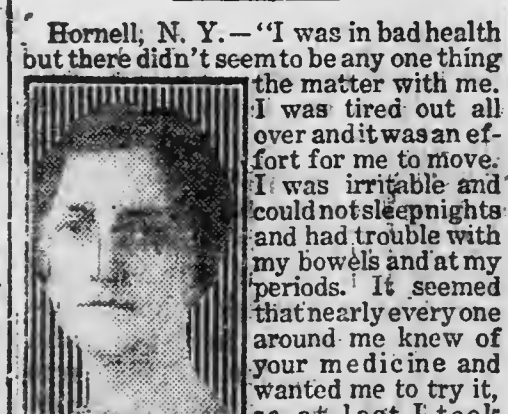

The fame of the Shakers may be diminishing, but the value of their handiwork is on the incline. That much was evident on Wednesday when a quantity of furniture left by the late Dr. W. F. Pennybaker at Shakertown was sold at auction at that place. It is matter of record that the Shakers never sold anything that pertained to their domestic life, and accordingly what Dr. Pennybaker controlled was really an accumulation of the years, the product of community work and the careful conserving relics of a fast disappearing fraternity.

The sale commenced early in the day and lasted until evening. John I. VanArsdall being the auctioneer. The total for the day was approximately $1,800, considered by all best able to judge as a record figure for the number and quality of the articles sold. Buyers were present from many points including Lexington, Louisville and Danville, and bidding was brisk throughout the day. There were not a few eye-openers as inconspicuous items of furniture were put up, prices soaring in an altogether unexpected way. Chairs of plain design and sometimes not too well preserved averaged $10 while rockingchairs went from $12 to $15. One secretary of walnut with sloping top sold for $35, while a mantel clock with three panels brought $25. Other mantel clocks ran from $8 to $12.

Some surprises were launched when the little candlesticks were put up, some specimens realizing as high as $20. One with a broken leg sold for $12.50. Coverlets, woven, sold well, one realizing $25.—Harrodsburg Herald.

NOW DO MY WORK WITH EASE

Because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored My Health

Hornell, N. Y.—"I was in bad health but there didn't seem to be any one thing the matter with me. I was tired out all over and it was an effort for me to move. I was irritable and could not sleep nights and had trouble with my bowels and at my periods. It seemed that nearly every one around me knew of your medicine and wanted me to try it, so at last I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and improved every day. I do all my own work now except the washing and do it with ease. I can accomplish as much in a day now as it would have taken me a week to do last winter and I try to get every one I know to take your medicine to build them up. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial if you like."—Mrs. CHAS. BAKER, 21 Spencer Ave., Hornell, N. Y.

In almost every neighborhood there are women who know of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. They know because they have taken it and have been helped. Why don't you give it a trial?

WHAT A STRIP COAL MINE REALLY IS

(By Associated Press)

Madisonville, Ky., July 22—With recent news stories from Herrin, Ill., and this place bringing into prominence so called stripping coal mines, there have been many inquiries as to what a strip mine really is. In the words of a man who had recently viewed the operations of such a mine near here, it is simply a "coal quarry."

In Illinois, Kentucky, Indiana, Kansas, Alabama, and other places there are veins of coal lying within from five to thirty or forty feet of the surface, which cannot be worked underground because there is no protecting layer of stone over the coal to hold up the "roof." In the western Kentucky coal fields there are several veins. The one known to coal men as "No. 12 vein" has no roof over it and cannot be worked underground. At a point about three miles from Madisonville this vein and also the "No. 11 vein" reach the surface. A layer of about two feet of hard limestone separates the two.

On one side of a valley, through which a railroad runs, a number of mine openings run directly into the hillside. On the other side, however, the coal slants upward and gradually approaches the surface. The land over the two veins, where they are so close to the surface, is of little value for farming purposes. The stripping miner simply removes the soil, throwing it to one side with a steam shovel. Then miners loosen the coal with shots of dynamite in the same manner that quarrymen loosen stone. A steam shovel follows, picks up the loosened coal and places it in cars. These are run to a tipple where the coal is picked, washed and loaded into railroad cars ready for the market.

The stripping mines in western Kentucky, of which there are five, all started within the past two years, are mining both the number eleven and number twelve veins of coal, with a combined depth of approximately 11 feet.

A peculiarity of the western Kentucky field is that the coal veins slant to the northwest at the rate of approximately one and one half feet in each 100. As a result the two veins that are "quarried" three miles from this city are 290 feet underground under the city of Madisonville. The number twelve vein cannot be worked at this depth and most of the mines in this section are worked in the number eleven. There are two other veins in the field known as "No. 9 vein" and "No. 6 vein." The number six vein has no roof but the coal is solid enough that a two foot layer left in the mine provides the needed roof to protect the miners.

POOR SEED BEDS LOWER AVERAGE WHEAT YIELD

Lexington, Ky., July 22—The 10-year average yield of wheat in Kentucky is only 12 bushels an acre, crop specialists say. Such low yields seldom are profitable and in many cases do not even pay the labor cost of producing the crop. Poor soils, fungus diseases and insects have been given as some of the main causes for the low yields.

In addition to these causes, poorly prepared seed beds contribute toward cutting down the amount of grain that is harvested, according to R. E. Stephenson, agronomy specialist of the College of Agriculture. A portion of the Kentucky wheat crop is seeded on corn ground, part of it after tobacco, cowpeas and soybeans and a part of it after wheat, oats or clover, in which case the land must be broken and prepared before seeding.

When land is broken for wheat, the plowing should be done early in the season. This gives time for the soil to settle and become firm, this point being especially important since wheat does not thrive in a freshly prepared, loose seed bed. Where wheat follows oats, the plowing should be done immediately after the oats crop is removed. As soon as it has been plowed, the soil should be harrowed and worked down to a firm bed.

A family of five and two others are killed and seriously injured at a railroad crossing.

COMBS NOW HITTING .356 FOR COLONELS

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, July 22—Perhaps Tyrus Raymond Cobb is convinced, in his own mind, that he is slowing up after seventeen years as a star in the American league, but George Sisler, the marvel player with St. Louis, whose batting honors Cobb is threatening today is positive "the Georgia peach" will be his most dangerous rival for the 1922 batting championship.

The race between Cobb and Sisler today is narrowed down to a difference of only 11 points, with Sisler setting the pace with an average of .416, a drop of four points within a week. Cobb, continuing his batting rampage, smashed out nine hits in his last five games, bringing his average to .405, while the best Sisler could do was four in as many games.

Sisler, however, is showing his run clouters with a string of 25, having registered seventy-nine times and stolen thirty-four bases—the best base stealing performance in major leagues.

Clarence "Tillie" Walker, the slugging outfielder with Philadelphia, is having a hard time catching Rogers Hornsby, the National league home run leader. Just when Tillie poles a circuit drive Hornsby bags one for himself. Tillie smashed two out in one game and ran his string up to 23, which gave him a lead of two ahead of Ken Williams, of St. Louis. Harry Heilmann, of Detroit, has 16 poled and Babe Ruth has 15.

Other leading batters for 55 or more games: Speaker, Cleveland, .365; Schang, New York, .360; Heilmann, Detroit, .356; Meusel, New York, .348; Bassler, Detroit, .347; Ed Miller, Philadelphia, .347; Tobin, St. Louis, .342; O'Neill, Cleveland, .339.

A recruit and a veteran are giving National leaguers something to talk about this week. The recruit is Lawrence "Hack" Miller, the Pacific Coast slugger with Chicago and the veteran is Jake Daubert, first baseman of Cincinnati. They have been wielding the hickory with telling effect, each cracking out a dozen hits in their last seven games. Daubert's hitting included two doubles and a home run, while Miller bagged four circuit drives and two doubles.

The Cincinnati veteran brought his average from .355 to .371 and is the runner-up to Rogers Hornsby, the St. Louis star, who tops the list with a mark of .397. Miller added ten points to his average and moved up among the select ten, his percentage being .360.

Hornsby's keen eye and hitting prowess keeps him out in front among the major league home run clouters with a string of 23 for the season.

Ma Carey, the speedy outfielder of the Pirates, in addition to showing the way to the base stealers with 24 thefts, is out in front as a run-getter, having registered 76 times.

Other leading batters for 55 or more games: Gowdy, Boston, .370; Hollocher, Chicago, .366; Grimes, Chicago, .363; Snyder, New York, .363; Bigbee, Pittsburgh, .362; J. Johnston, Brooklyn, .357; B. Griffith, Brooklyn, .351; L. Miller, Chicago, .350.

Eddie Brown, star outfielder with Indianapolis, by pounding out 13 hits in his last six games, deposited Jay Kirke, of Louisville, as the batting leader of the American Association, according to averages of today which include games of Wednesday.

Brown is leading the race with a mark of .378, while Kirke is second with .374. Myatt, of Milwaukee, is resting in third place with .372. "Reb" Russell, the outfielder Minneapolis sold to Pittsburgh, is going back to the major leagues with a fat average. In seventy games he has made 81 hits, including 17 homers, for an average of .331.

The home run hitters are trailing Bunny Brief, of Kansas City, who is setting the pace with 22. Mathews, of Milwaukee, jumped ahead of Baird, of Indianapolis, in the scramble for base stealing honors, going into the lead with 19, Baird having stolen 16.

Other leading batters for 55 or more games: Lear, Milwaukee, .371; Good, Kansas City, .370; Mathews, Milwaukee, .360; Combs, Louisville, .356; Lamar, Toledo, .354; Becker, Kansas City, .344; Kruger, Indianapolis, .339; Mayer, Minneapolis, .337.

Officers Get Rewards In Prohibition Cases

Now that the Court of Appeals has upheld the constitutionality of the Rash-Gullion act, the new prohibition law, officers in Kentucky who arrest persons drunk, or who violate the state prohibition law in any other way, except in manufacturing liquors or having stills, will receive $5 reward. The law provides that the $5 in each case shall be taxed as costs against the defendant and then paid to the arresting officer. In cases where a still is found the informant will receive $50 from the county fiscal court. This amount is not taxed as costs against the defendant. The lowest fine on a conviction for drunkenness is $10 and costs in court and the extra $5 will make the lowest fine and costs $18.60.

Goodrich announces new tire prices

—lowest cost mileage ever known

Effective July 20th, Goodrich establishes a revised price list that is a base line of tire value. It gives the motorist the buying advantage of knowing that whatever size tire he selects is of the same quality—the Goodrich one-quality standard. It gives him the longest mileage, the most satisfactory service and the highest quality his money can buy. Results will prove that it is impossible to buy tire mileage at lower cost.
